

THE REVOLT AGAINST THE REDS

—Part One—

The revolt is on against the Communist fifth-columnists in this country.

Congress balked first, then the rank and file of labor.

Just now the counter-revolution against the infiltrated saboteurs and subversives is being led (of all places!) in the Supreme Court of the United States.

There is more than a bit of irony in this high appellate court, which the New Dealers once boasted they had "taken over", being the one eloquent and courageous forum where the ideology of totalitarianism and the State Almighty is receiving its hardest licks.

Yet that's the way it is.

For the second time within a year, the Supreme Court has come through with a ringing declaration of Americanism, a sound and convincing argument on behalf of the right of a free people to defend their freedom.

Once again the parlor pinks and the radicals, the starry-eyed dreamers of "The Day" and the busy little plotters sniping away on the public payroll—once again these vermin and bacteria, these lice on the back of popular sovereignty, have taken it on the chin.

For the second time, there has been a streamlined legal discussion of the fundamentals of self-government vs. free speech, in language that John Milton and Alexander Hamilton, and for that matter Voltaire and Tom Paine, and all the other historic philosophers on the subject, could understand and endorse.

Not that the opinions are magic. They won't do the trick themselves. They are just ideas dressed in words, and no matter that the ideas are sound and the words eloquent, hard and earnest and courageous work will be needed before the Augean stables are cleared of the last entrenched plotter against American self-government.

But the point is that the Supreme Court of the United States has stood up on its hind legs and vindicated the things which the Nixons and the Dies and the McCarthys have been fighting for—to see that the men and women hired by the American people as their public servants are loyal and faithful and dependable believers in the American form of government.

Some months ago the Supreme Court wrecked the complacency of entrenched radicalism by upholding the Federal Smith Act, which makes preaching subversive doctrines a penitentiary offense.

A band of ardent anti-American conspirators had been found guilty and started on their way to jail. They had invoked, out of the Constitution they were plotting against, the right of "free speech" as a cloak for their conduct. The Supreme Court ruled against them, and upheld the right of a free people to protect their free government from its enemies within as well as without.

Now the same court has upheld the right of state governments to purge their public school systems of teachers who believe in the overthrow of the government by violence, and who either teach that doctrine, or are caught belonging to groups which preach subversive beliefs.

The country as a whole, and many areas in it, have the best of reasons for being profoundly interested in these opinions.

As a matter of fact, their monumental importance is so great that it may be a generation before it is realized. A few years from now, historians may mention them as being among the most significant legal opinions in American history—marking the turning point away from dictatorship back to freedom and self-government.

Certainly they profoundly changed the alignment of forces in this nation the moment they were issued, and no persons who

Successfully Ends First Aid Instructor Course

Cpl. Paul E. Perkins, son of Mrs. Florence Perkins, 839 Second avenue, was one of eight members of the 56th Amphibious Tank and Tractor Battalion who successfully completed the first aid instructor course recently given by the American Red Cross at Camp McGill, Japan.

Cpl. Perkins will return to his unit to assist in training other men in first aid skills. This training often means the difference between life and death, as a first aid man can aid a wounded soldier in the vital few minutes before the regular medical technician can arrive from the battalion aid station, an army spokesman said.

The instruction program is conducted by American Red Cross Safety Services representatives through the Far East Command under a directive from Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, who has urged all units to take advantage of it. Cpl. Perkins, who has been in the army for 3½ years, is a graduate of Bristol high school.

MILADY CAN LOOK LOVELY THIS EASTER NO MATTER HOW LIMITED IS THE BUDGET

By "Window Shopper"
Let's take a walk through Bristol's shopping district together. There is a sharp nip in the air this morning, and a light snow, as winter clings to this area, but spring is in the shop windows.

You can look lovely this Easter no matter how limited your budget may be.

The perennial favorite — navy blue — predominates in most displays. This rich shade, flattering to the young and not-so-young as well, is offered in suits designed to enhance any figure.

In one shop there is a darling navy blue faille with a double breasted jacket and a detachable capelet. It has just a tiny bit of white pique on the capelet. Just enough to give you that "spanking fresh" look — not enough to soil easily.

In the same shop there is a smart tailored model in the newest nubby rayon weave. You can dress this suit up with a filmy nylon blouse and a bit of costume jewelry or "dress it down" with a tailored blouse. Choosing your accessories to suit the occasion, you can always be sure of being dressed just the way you want to be — never over-dressed.

To top your navy suit there are many lovely toppers, in shades

"DISMAL BUSINESS"

Musician Says Taxpayer and Collector Singing Two Different Melodies

This is the concluding article of a series telling how Americans of average and middle incomes are meeting the problems of higher taxes and rising costs generally.

"The Taxes We Pay" ARTICLE FIVE By Harry Johannesen

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent) SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 7.—(INS)—Stoner Beard, with a wry smile, sums up his feeling about taxes this way:

"This is the greatest country in the world. But I sure wish it didn't cost so much to run it."

Beard and his blonde wife, Edna, view the Bureau of Internal Revenue's Form 1040 as a pretty dismal and discordant business. A musician, Beard knows something about discord, and he can bear it so long as there's a bit of harmony now and then.

But, he remarks, the tax collector and the taxpayer seem to be singing

Rate is Increased One Mill Over the Rate of Last Year

MEMBERS TAKE OATH

PENNDL, Mar. 7.—The tax rate here was fixed last night by council at 13 mills, an increase of one mill over last year.

Cat Takes Real Soaking In Electric Dishwasher

MORRISVILLE, Mar. 7.—When "Kitsi Boy" became entangled in the mechanism of an electric dish washing machine at the home of Mrs. George C. McGready, Yardley road, he took a severe buffeting and soaking.

The dishwasher is a new one, delivered Wednesday. That day Mrs. McGready was using it for the second time. As she pulled out a tray to place the dishes in the water, "Kitsi Boy" crawled into the machinery beneath the tray. Mrs. McGready was unaware of his presence there, and replaced the drawer, turning on the switch.

There came a loud yowling. Not being familiar with the washer, Mrs. McGready thought it could not be turned off until completion of the usual cycle.

She hurried to the telephone and tried to reach her husband. She found he had not arrived at his office, so she called the plumber who had installed the washer. He assured her that the washer could be turned off and told her how to do it.

When Mrs. McGready finally got the machine stopped and rescued "Kitsi Boy," she found the drenched cat had suffered a few cuts but was not badly injured. Mrs. McGready said the cat had been trapped in the washer for nearly 15 minutes.

"Kitsi Boy" is one of a pair of Siamese cats owned by Mrs. McGready. The other is named "Suzi Mai." The pets are not quite a year old. Mrs. McGready's husband is field engineer of the Industrial Engineering Works here.

RAIL'S ANNIVERSARY

America's first passenger railroad, the Baltimore and Ohio, is happily celebrating the 125th anniversary of its being chartered in 1827. It is a notable event in the country's history, and in consequence the government has commemorated it by the issuance of 27,000,000 3-cent anniversary postage stamps, of which 6,000,000 already have been distributed to post offices for sale.

Nothing should be allowed to mar such a celebration, and nothing will be, for Judge Matthews of the United States District Court, Washington, refused to enjoin Postmaster General Donaldson from putting the stamps on sale. The suit was brought by a trucking company in Pennsylvania, which maintained the stamp issue would be unfair advertising of a competitor.

The Baltimore and Ohio did not begin actual operation until 1830, and then with horse-drawn vehicles moving on crude rails over a 14-mile route. The first train drawn in the United States by a steam locomotive was between Albany and Schenectady in 1831. But in the three decades that intervened before the Civil War Between the States, the B. and O., with iron rails and steam power, had pushed from Baltimore to Washington, then westward.

The new stamp shows a horse-drawn car and the Tom Thumb, the first American-built steam locomotive, and in the background there is a Diesel electric locomotive.

The story of the development of the American railroads is a glorious one. To it Congress contributed handsomely by granting land on both sides of the right of way, and by 1869 the first transcontinental railroad, by the junction of the Central Pacific and the Union Pacific at Ogden, Utah, came into being.

PROSPECTING IN '52

Many times during the latter half of the nineteenth century the magic cry of "Eureka, Gold!" was heard throughout the West as farmers, businessmen, and ranchers turned prospector reaped the harvest of their new-found occupation.

Today, there is a new prospecting boom in the making. The mineral this time, however, is uranium, the magic element of the atomic age.

Prospectors must be given much credit for rich uranium deposits found in the United States, which incidentally, now ranks second only to the Belgian Congo in the production of this yellow substance which is found in sandstone.

One of the largest uranium deposits in this country was found by Paddy Martinez, a Navajo Indian, at Haystack Butte, N. M. Horace Greeley's, "Go West, young man, go West!" might well apply to the Twentieth Century as well as the Nineteenth. How much do you suppose the fare would be to Haystack Butte?

SYMBOL OF HOPE

FLOWERS express man's hope for everlasting peace. Their delicate beauty and fragrance shut out doubt and darkness by symbolizing the love we hold for those we've lost.

And, because we love, we grieve. But, because we have faith, we look forward to immortality. To our soul's unspoken question on these solemn occasions, flowers whisper comfortingly, "Hope!"

Because...like life...flowers flourish and fade. But there is something in their vital beauty that cannot wholly perish.

When you can't be there with those who grieve, Flowers-By-Wire carry your sympathy across the miles.

Greatest Country in World, But He Decries the Taxes

ing two different melodies when the annual concert rolls around in mid-March, and they don't seem to have the same approach to composition.

The one pleasing chord in his own duet with the Treasury, Beard says, is that he is allowed a deduction for what he laughingly refers to as his "rug" expense.

The "rug" costs $85 and must be refurnished periodically. It covers not a floor but the 41-year-old Beard's prematurely bald head, Beard explained.

"It's necessary to cover up baldness as attractively as possible, you know, when you are playing in a dance band under bright lights."

"The Government realizes this and allows the deduction."

To Beard's amusement, his wife thinks the "rug" is a "creepy thing" but remarks she is glad that it has a double function.

"Don't misunderstand," Beard adds hastily. "We are glad to pay our taxes, but we hate to see any of it wasted in unnecessary Government expenditures."

Beard, in filling out his income tax form himself, makes also the regular deductions allowed members of his profession, such as wardrobe upkeep, instrument repair and traveling expenses.

And, after six years of marriage, the Beards have a happy light in their eyes when they disclose that they are on the way to their first exemption, who should arrive in July. They have no preferences as to its sex.

"The Government won't let us deduct for our dogs, Cindy and Iggy," Mrs. Beard says with a smile.

Mrs. Beard worked six months last year as a bookkeeper. "I shouldn't have done it," she says. "It moved us into a higher income bracket."

The Beards are bracketed between the $5,000-$10,000 class. They expect to receive a tax refund this year, just as they did for several years previously.

"It won't be much," Beard says, "and it will go to pay another tax—property."

The Beards are buying their own home on a GI loan. He is an Army veteran of World War II. To augment his income from musical engagements Beard works also as San Francisco representative for a pen company.

"No dance band engagement is ever permanent," he explains, "and you have to keep busy between engagements."

He is now a member of Dick Foy's band. Other bandleaders who have made deductions from his paycheck include Desi Arnaz, Ray Herbeck, Jack Teagarden, George Olson, Jess Stafford and John Wolo-han. He has also paid taxes on income from Hollywood studios and radio shows.

Beard does not like the withholding method of paying income taxes.

"If you could use the tax money the Government deducts during the year," he says, "you might make an investment that would make more money for both yourself and the Government."

Mrs. Beard deplores the rising cost of living as well as the rising cost of government and consequently higher taxes.

"Where will it stop?" she asks. "It's almost impossible to keep the food budget in bounds."

Mrs. Beard, born and educated in Kentucky, likes Kentucky hams. So does her husband, but they find the delicacy a luxury item that can't be included on their menu as often as they would like to have it.

They also love entertainment but Beard says "We can't afford to go out too much. We live quietly, enjoy television and the radio, buy bonds—and pay taxes."

wishes to keep abreast of American thought in such fields as political science, journalism, forensics and politics should delay acquainting himself with the concepts that now are the official American doctrine—a philosophy which seems almost revolutionary, but only because we had drifted so far from the principles which the nation took for granted the first hundred years of its life.

Pennsylvania will have special interest in the matter, for the reason that the Supreme Court has held up to ridicule and contempt and refutation a set of milk-and-water theories which were aired at much length before last year's session of the legislature, and which resulted in the very serious toning-down of this state's loyalty laws.

The new opinion will have a terrific impact on the present national political situation.

The reason is that it upholds the doctrine which had been assailed in every "liberal" channel of discussion, bandied about endlessly on television and radio, slid plausibly down the public's throat as an apology and excuse for those who have been caught red-handed helping the Communists try to undermine our Constitution.

That doctrine is the one scornfully branded "guilt by association" in the case of Senator McCarthy, for example, he found and revealed the fact that many of the key figures in our national government had been playing around the Communists and pro-Communists for years, that they had joined the Commie-front organizations, and had helped in fellow-traveler campaigns.

To Senator McCarthy it was obvious that "birds of a feather flock together," and that "a man is known by the company he keeps."

But the glib reply of the pinko boys was that just because someone had helped along two or three dozen Communist activities a few years ago, it didn't mean a thing today. Maybe it was all a horrible mistake, or maybe the poor guy had reformed, or maybe he was just waiting for a street car. Why hold it against him? Why be mean? Let's take a chance! What have we to lose—except our country?

Now officially and finally, it has been ruled by the highest tribunal in the United States that looking into someone's past record is one of the best possible ways of guessing what his future is apt to be.

Chief of Police William D. Hammerschmidt, of Sellersville, broke the case last November when the three men were arrested in Sellersville. The alertness of the Sellersville chief broke up a swindle which police said covered many counties in the State and at least 1,000 victims.

At a hearing in Sellersville before Justice of the Peace W. Lee Wilhelm last November, the three men were held for the action of the Bucks county grand jury. They were also arrested and held for the Montgomery county authorities.

The three accused men furnished bail in Bucks county in the sum of $2,000 apiece, and they were released from prison and their cases disposed of in Montgomery county first.

Chief Hammerschmidt was in Doylestown Wednesday conferring with the district attorney as to when the case will come up in Bucks county.

True Neighborliness (Read Luke 10).

As you read this story notice the different attitudes toward the man traveling from Jerusalem to Jericho:

(1) The attitude of each robber — "What's mine is mine and I mean to take it."

(2) The attitude of each seemingly "religious" person — "What's mine is mine, and I mean to keep it."

(3) The attitude of the True Neighbor — "What's mine is mine, I mean you to have it."

Are you a true neighbor? Not if you are always grabbing at what other people have. Not if you refuse to give when another is in need of help simply because what you have is yours by right. You are a True Neighbor when disregarding your own convenience and probable loss you help a fellow traveler regardless of his race, social standing, or creed.

Class Mothers To Aid In Graduates' Reception

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Mar. 7 —Twenty-six members of the Class Mothers Association, of Cornwells Parent-Teacher Association, met in the high school Wednesday evening. In the absence of the secretary, minutes were read by Kermit Langdon, president of P. T. A.

Mrs. Lloyd Beck, who presided, read several notes of appreciation from elementary teachers, who were entertained at a supper last month.

Mrs. James Mitchell reported an investigation had been made of the behavior of children on school buses. It had been previously suggested that a class mother ride in the buses to maintain order. According to state law this is not permissible. However, a stern warning was issued to the children and it is reported that behavior has much improved.

It was announced that a group of 7th and 8th grade class mothers will serve refreshments at the next P. T. A. meeting.

Mrs. George Mueller, secretary of Bensalem Alumni Association, requested assistance during a reception in June for the graduating class.

Mrs. James Mitchell reported the ways and means committee will hold a parcel post sale in May.

Mrs. Raymond Oswald was welcomed as a new member.

On Mar. 20th, the elementary class mothers will serve supper to high school teachers and Class Mothers in the cafeteria and art room.

A "white elephant" auction followed, $19.65 being added to the treasury. Kermit Langdon was auctioneer.

Hat Designer is Heard By Langhorne Sorosis

LANGHORNE, Mar. 7 —A hat designer spoke on "A Hat For You," with music also enjoyed at the meeting of Langhorne Sorosis, held in the local library, yesterday afternoon.

The three piano soli were by Miss Natalie Scull.

The program was in charge of Mrs. David Mallick, co-chairman of the American home committee. She presented Mrs. Bruce Young (known professionally as Gwen Young), a hat designer and lecturer. Recently of New York, N. Y., Mrs. Young now resides at Radnor. She presented "A Hat For You," demonstrating six basic shapes, and informing how to choose the correct shape to suit the individual face. An informal question and answer period followed.

Mrs. Edward Tickering, 3d, presided. Mrs. William Kaye announced a card party to be held at her home April 17th at 1:30. This will be a dessert affair, with various card games played. The welfare expenses for the year will be cared for through this function.

The president named Mrs. Harold Wilson and Mrs. Harry Rothmel to audit the treasurer's books.

Mrs. Harold Riggs was tea hostess, with Mrs. N. Herbert Cooley and Mrs. Joseph W. Lindenfelser, Jr., pouring.

The next meeting will be under

SPORTSMEN'S BRIEFS

C. Kenneth Jenks
Pinch-Hitting for Joe Elbertson

The regular monthly meeting of the Bristol Fish and Game Protective Association will be held Tuesday evening, in the new American Legion Home, Radcliffe street. The usual starting time of eight o'clock will be respected. The entertainment committee has planned for the showing of movies. We are hopeful of realizing a substantial increase in our attendance. Activities have been expanded to include some new ventures and we are sure from the various groups you will find one that will enable you to associate yourself more closely with the sport you like best. We have a drive on for members. If no one approaches you, you can join by contacting any member.

The rapid increase of rabies infected animals, both wild and domestic in the eastern part of the State has caused wide spread alarm. Never before has a state east of the Mississippi River encountered such a drastic corrective measure. Since the fox, at present, is the greatest offender, severe tactics are being directed against that particular animal.

In view of this prevailing condition, it is felt that the people of lower Bucks County might be interested in knowing the fox population in this area is considerably less than that of some neighboring counties. This is due largely to the hunting pressure exercised in this section.

So far this winter some members of the Vermin Control Committee of the Bristol Fish and Game Protective Association and their hunting friends, have accounted for at least eight foxes. Pressure of this sort will aid, to a great extent, in keeping the fox population at a reasonable low level and cause them to be hard to find.

The trap committee of the association will conduct a flyer shoot Sunday, March 9th at the Club's shooting grounds, Bath Rd. & Route 13. The usual program will be offered and is scheduled to start at 11:00 a. m. Practice shooting will be privileged prior to the start of the match. Refreshments will be available.

Again, the Tournament Accuracy Plug Casters of the Bristol Club are involved in a busy week. Last month they competed in the New York Sportsmen's Show and brought home second place honors in both team and individual events. This week they are exerting their efforts at the Philadelphia Motorboat and Sportsmen's Show with high hopes of repeating or bettering their New York showing.

The sport of accuracy plug casting is an activity that should interest all fishermen whose use the short rod for bait casting. Not only does it permit contact with your equipment the entire year, but it also develops handling ability and technique which leads to greater satisfaction in the use of that equipment during the fishing season.

The riflemen engage in target shooting in an effort to elevate himself into the group of more skillful shooters. The smooth-bore gunners shoot blue rock for the same reason. Accuracy plug casting should be looked upon by fishermen as comparable to both of these accepted games of skill and give it a try. The results might be a very pleasant surprise.

According to the record of the Pennsylvania Fish Commission, as of February 15, 1952, the following represents the waters contained within the areas owned by the Fish Commission, Game Commission, Department of Forest and Waters and the Federal Government. It also provides the portion of these waters stocked by the Fish Commission and, of course, such waters are open to public fishing.

Total miles of approved trout waters — 1248.
Total miles of approved trout waters stocked with takable trout — 966.
Total miles of tributary streams stocked with fingerling trout in 1950-51 — 486.

Total acres of ponds and lakes — 20136.
Total acres of ponds and lakes stocked 18592.
The reason the remaining waters are not stocked is due to their inaccessibility with stocking equipment.

ANDERSON SCORES
WINNING GOAL;
LUCISANO WINS

Dick Anderson scored the winning field goal last night as Lucisano Brothers won over the Hibernians in a Bristol Basketball League tilt on the Goodwill Hose Company floor. Final score was: Lucisano, 55; Hibernians, 54.

Anderson's goal came after Charlie Brady had put the Hibs back into the game with a pair of field goals and a foul and after the count had been tied up three times within the last three minutes of playing.

The game was hard-fought from start to finish with the lead changing hands on many occasions. The score was knotted at 28-28 at half-time with the Hibs taking a 42-38 lead in the third quarter. But the Tullytown boys soon evened the count and a see-saw affair followed with the game being decided in the last minute of action.

Johnny Paone and Mickey Stradling paced the winners with 15 points each. Stradling had a nice night from the foul line in sinking 6 of his eight shots.

Joe Mulligan scored 15 and Brady, 12, to lead the losers in scoring.

Lineups:
Hibernians: Mulligan, B. Brady, Saxton, Simmons, Vanzant, Burr.
Lucisano Brothers: Paone, Anderson, Stradling, Throup, Parr, Brelsford.

Referees: Emil and McCoy; Timer: Hughes; Scorer: Juno.

Bristol's Record: Won, 15; Lost, 12.

The Bristol High basketballers are keyed to the highest pitch for tomorrow night's fracas with Central High (Doylestown) Buccaneers. The important quarter-final game of the Class A division of the P. I. A. A. tournament will be played on the Stewart Junior High School floor, Norristown. Opening tap-off will take place at eight o'clock.

On the basis of their season's record, Central Bucks is favored over the Warriors. The Doylestown boys won both halves of the Bux-Mont League, capturing the second half with eight victories and no defeats. The league record of the county-seaters is 15 wins and 2 losses.

Bristol actually won 19 and lost

8 but four of their victories were erased when Coach Ben Watson discovered that one of his players did not attend Bristol High the number of required days before the opening of the basketball season after transferring from another school. Watson reported his discovery to the Lower Bucks officials and forfeited the quartet of games that the player participated.

Bristol's Lower Bucks record was 7 triumphs and one defeat but the forfeited games brought its mark to 3 and 5. The Warriors gave all their opponents tough games with the exception of Trenton Catholic which romped to two easy victories.

Coach Watson's team scored 60 or more points in 14 of its games and in five games scored 80 or more points. Against New Hope, Bristol hit the 90 mark. Lansdale, which is in the Bux-Mont League with Central Bucks, defeated Bristol on two occasions, the second time by one point.

Leading the Bristolians in the scoring division are Bob Strobele and Andy Accardi. Since being promoted to a starting berth in the last 20 games, Strobele has averaged better than 15 points per game and reached his peak against Pennsbury and St. Matthew's, when he hit for 29 and 25 points, respectively. Accardi has been slicing the cords consistently all season and has hit the double figures in most of the games played.

"Jim" Gallagher will be at the pivot post for the Warriors and Coach Watson will depend on him to retrieve the ball off the boards. Gallagher is the most improved player on the team. About the only sophomore in the starting lineup will be Harold Loud, who is developing into one of the best set shots artist in this section. Raul Stevens, diminutive guard, will be at his regular position and will be counted on to break up the Doylestown passing attack.

Others in the Bristol fold are: Jack Bowe, Walt Holden, Ed Burton, Bill Barkasy, Pat Rossi, Frank Manzo, Johnson, and Bill Marshall. "Jim" Radcliffe is the big gun of the Central Bucks scoring attack. In his final game against Perkasie, Radcliffe hit for 25 points and is one of the best centers in the Bux-Mont circuit. Others in the Doylestown lineup are: E. Redfield, J. Lee, D. Fritz, Caswell, N. Wright, and K. Huber.

Many fans of this section will occupy seats in the Stewart gym and root for Bristol team to triumph. A bus for the convenience of the fans will be available. For bus reservations, fans are requested to contact Jerry Bloom, athletic director of Bristol High.
